ExploreKYHistory

A new smart phone app and a new project for HPBC/Hopewell Museum will soon bring a way to learn even more about the important people, places and events celebrated on the 23 historical markers throughout the county.

A committee of HPBC/Hopewell Museum is joining the Kentucky Historical Society's (KHS) Marker Program, ExploreKYHistory, to help provide greater context, related stories, images, audio clips and video about the subjects on Bourbon County's twenty-three historical markers. Through this free app and the companion app website, the traveling and touring public will have greater access to Bourbon County's rich local history.

To download the current app for your phone, search your phone's app store for "explore Kentucky history" or see the app's accompanying website at explorekyhistory.ky.gov.

As HPBC/Hopewell Museum develops its Bourbon County markers, they will be posted on our Facebook page so that Bourbon Countians can begin their historical marker tour at any time!

May is Historic Preservation Month!

Putting Historic Preservation Tax Credits to Work

May 30, 2013, Thursday
5-7PM at Hopewell Museum.

Learn how you can use state & federal tax credits for historic preservation and come away with a resource list of architects, engineers, contractors and suppliers. This workshop will be led by Ralph Quillin, who will use his rehab work in downtown Paris as an example of what can be accomplished. Cost: Free to members; $10 nonmembers. Sponsored by HPBC and the SSQ Historic Preservation Fund.

February 10-June 2, 2013 Road Life: Sites & Scenes along Kentucky's First Highway. The road from Lexington to Maysville has a long and colorful history. This exhibit uses archaeological excavations conducted during recent road improvements to interpret the road's historical geography and social contexts. Sponsored by Kentucky Transportation Cabinet, Federal Highway Administration, Kentucky Archaeological Survey and the W.S. Webb Museum of Anthropology.

Cabin Fever? Our Road Life Exhibit features new interactives for younger visitors. Build your own town along the Limestone Trace or draw a map of the place where you live. . .or would like to live. Try your hand at drawing perspective from a road's eye view or just put yourself in our Long Ago in Bourbon County Learning Center where you're a part of life in a small town of 100 years ago!

We'll take Attic Sale "stuff" anytime! Call 987-7274 for pick-up. Donations tax deductible!

Our Student art workshops incorporate the Elements of Art and the Principles of Design. Workshop objectives are at www.hopewell.org/educating_students along with our current education brochure and info on transportation grants.

These Paris Elementary Black History Month pictures of Jackie Robinson and Ruby Bridges were on display at Hopewell Museum during March.
