YOU'RE CORDIALLY INVITED TO TWO Opening Receptions during February!

February 2 with free community reception from 2-4 PM. If you have memorabilia or stories to share, please bring it! Free with light refreshments.

Claysville & Ruckerville: Historically Black Neighborhoods in Paris, Kentucky. Claysville and Ruckerville sprang up following the Civil War as communities for freed slaves. From maps and public lists of the time, we know names and locations of people who lived there and we've drawn on community memories to provide details of day to day living. On display through December 20, 2014.

February 16 with free community reception from 2-4 PM. Free with light refreshments.

The Keeneland Library Presents: Racing As It was Meant to Be. Treasures from the vaults of the Keeneland Library reveal a century's worth of Thoroughbred racing history in images and artifacts, including original artworks and stunning trophies. From the Kentucky Association to the Keeneland of today, the richness of racing's legacy is on display in a unique tribute to Kentucky's distinctive sport. February 16-June 1, 2014. Sponsored by CMWA, Kentucky Bank Keeneland Association & Quillin Leather & Tack.

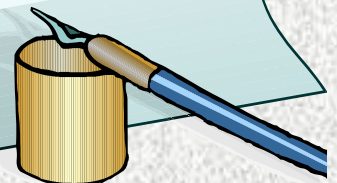

February Art Activities for Kids. Hopewell Museum celebrates Black History Month and Valentines Day by providing kid-friendly art projects throughout the museum. Visitors of all ages can make their own valentine or design an African American strip quilt to take home. Admission for families is free for these special projects.
