COLONEL LESLIE C. BLANKINSHIP
President

MILLERSBURG, KENTUCKY

COL. LESLIE C. BLANKINSHIP
President

Corps of Cadets
Millersburg Military Institute
Millersburg, Kentucky

Gentlemen:

Today, we again need to consider our freedoms. Yes, the four we know so well and one more, one basic to the other four. Millersburg and other schools like it, has been traditionally the strength and heart of this other freedom. The entire program and philosophy of M. M. I. is designed to challenge you young men because we believe that without challenge there is no response, no development, no learning, no freedom.

The world today more than at any other time demands realism and realism demands a standard. These standards must be Christian, they must inspire sterling qualities which reflect uncommon excellence and moral value. We must stress the highest rather than the lowest or even the mediocre in our duty to man and God - so that you cadets here at M. M. I. may respond to the challenge of your lives by a disciplined mind and a moral sense. We therefore shall not lose this freedom, "the right to be one's best."

You control your own destiny. You therefore, can be just what you want to be. The price is just being your best in all things with a sincere love and trust in your fellow man, and an unswerving faith in God. Accomplish these things and your success is assured.

Sincerely,

Leslie C. Blankinship

FACULTY, AND STAFF

Colonel Leslie C. Blankinship was born in Buckingham, Virginia, on 23 March, 1909, the son of a school teacher. He attended public schools of Virginia, graduating from Clifton Forge H.S., in Clifton Forge, Virginia. From there he went to Lynchburg College where he received his B.A. degree and did one year of graduate work in the University of Virginia in the field of History. He taught and coached at the Randolph Macon Academy, Front Royal, Virginia, for 8 years.

After the war he went with the YMCA and served as Physical Director and General Secretary at Daytona Beach, Florida, until May, 1953, at which time he came to Millersburg as the third superintendent of M.M.I.

LT. COLONEL POPE BLACKSHEAR, PMS&T

Colonel Blackshear, our Professor of Military Science and Tactics, came to M.M.I. four years ago after having served twenty years in the U.S. Army. A graduate of West Point, he brought with him the military know-how which has, since his first year here, elevated M.M.I. to the rank of Honor Military School. We are glad that we have him.

MAJOR ARCH MORRIS, Commandant

Major Morris came to us this year from OMI, and he also brings with him 30 years of military experience from the U.S. Army. Cadet discipline has been very ably handled by Major Morris, and we hope that we will have him with us for many more years to come.

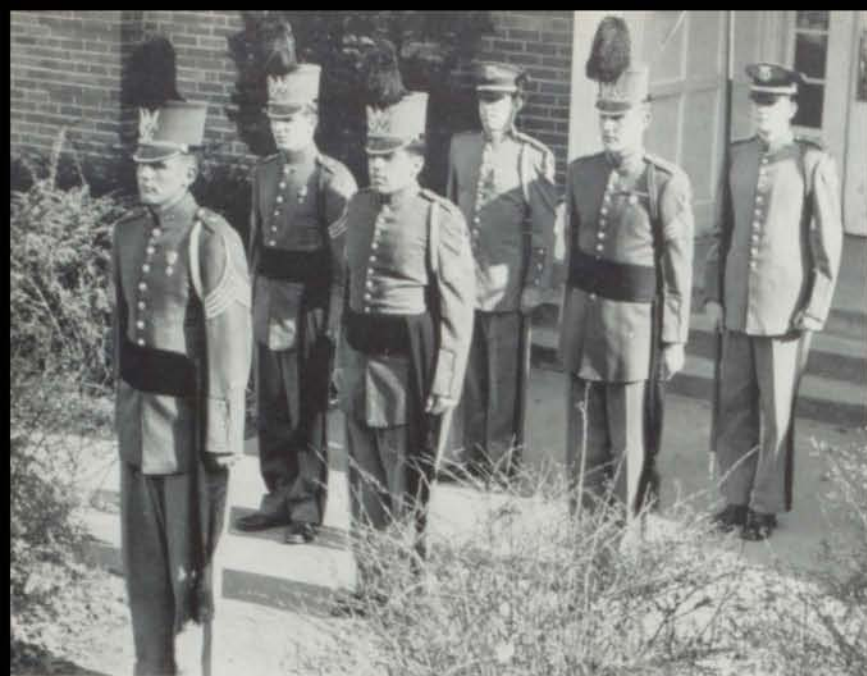

The Battalion Staff

The M.M.I. cadet system is directed toward better study habits, leadership training, the development of poise, and self assurance. The school places its major emphasis on the preparation of young men for a successful college career.
