Millersburg . . .
Our Town

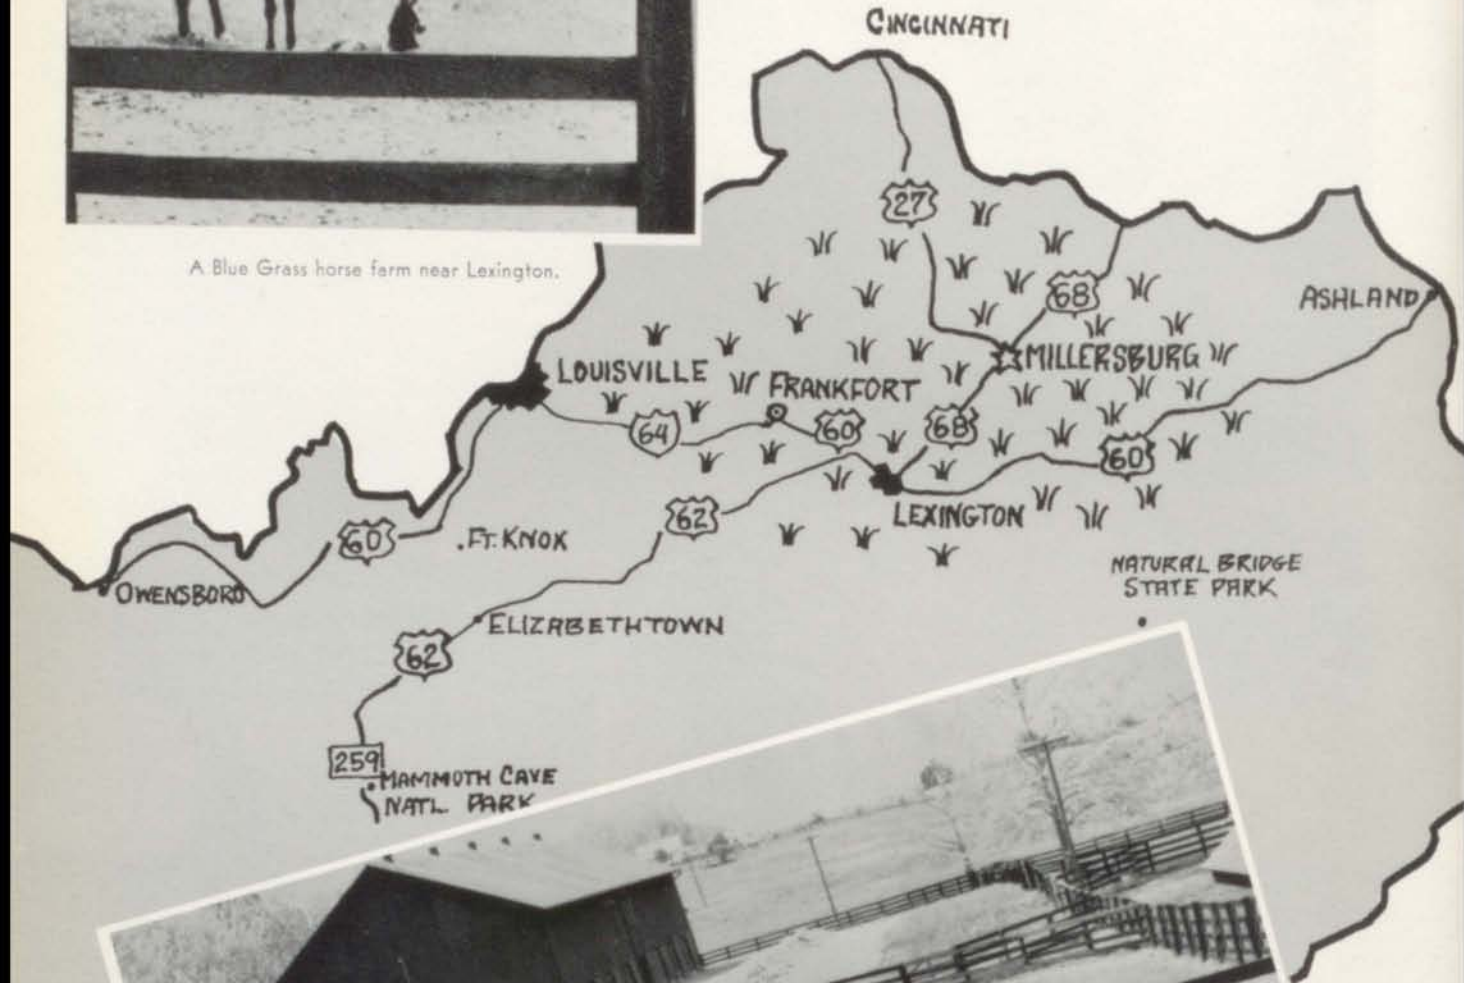

Millersburg's setting is the soft green hill country of north central Kentucky, the land of thoroughbred horse farms, of blue grass and of tobacco. Its population of under one thousand may make it less conspicuous on today's road maps; but Millersburg is in fact one of the oldest settlements in the State. Founded in 1798 by Major John Miller, it served its surrounding area well. The Louisville & Nashville Railroad's Maysville branch was routed through the town, and during the Civil War it saw Morgan's raiders pass through the area repeatedly. For the past century Millersburg has concentrated on a commodity that is becoming more important from year to year: education. For a time a junior college for girls flourished; then Millersburg Military Institute was founded and immediately elevated to a community project, which it is even today. M.M.I. is Millersburg. In this age of rapid transportation and shrinking distances Millersburg is easily accessible from Lexington, 27 miles to the south, as well as Louisville to the west and Cincinnati, a scant 75 miles to the north.

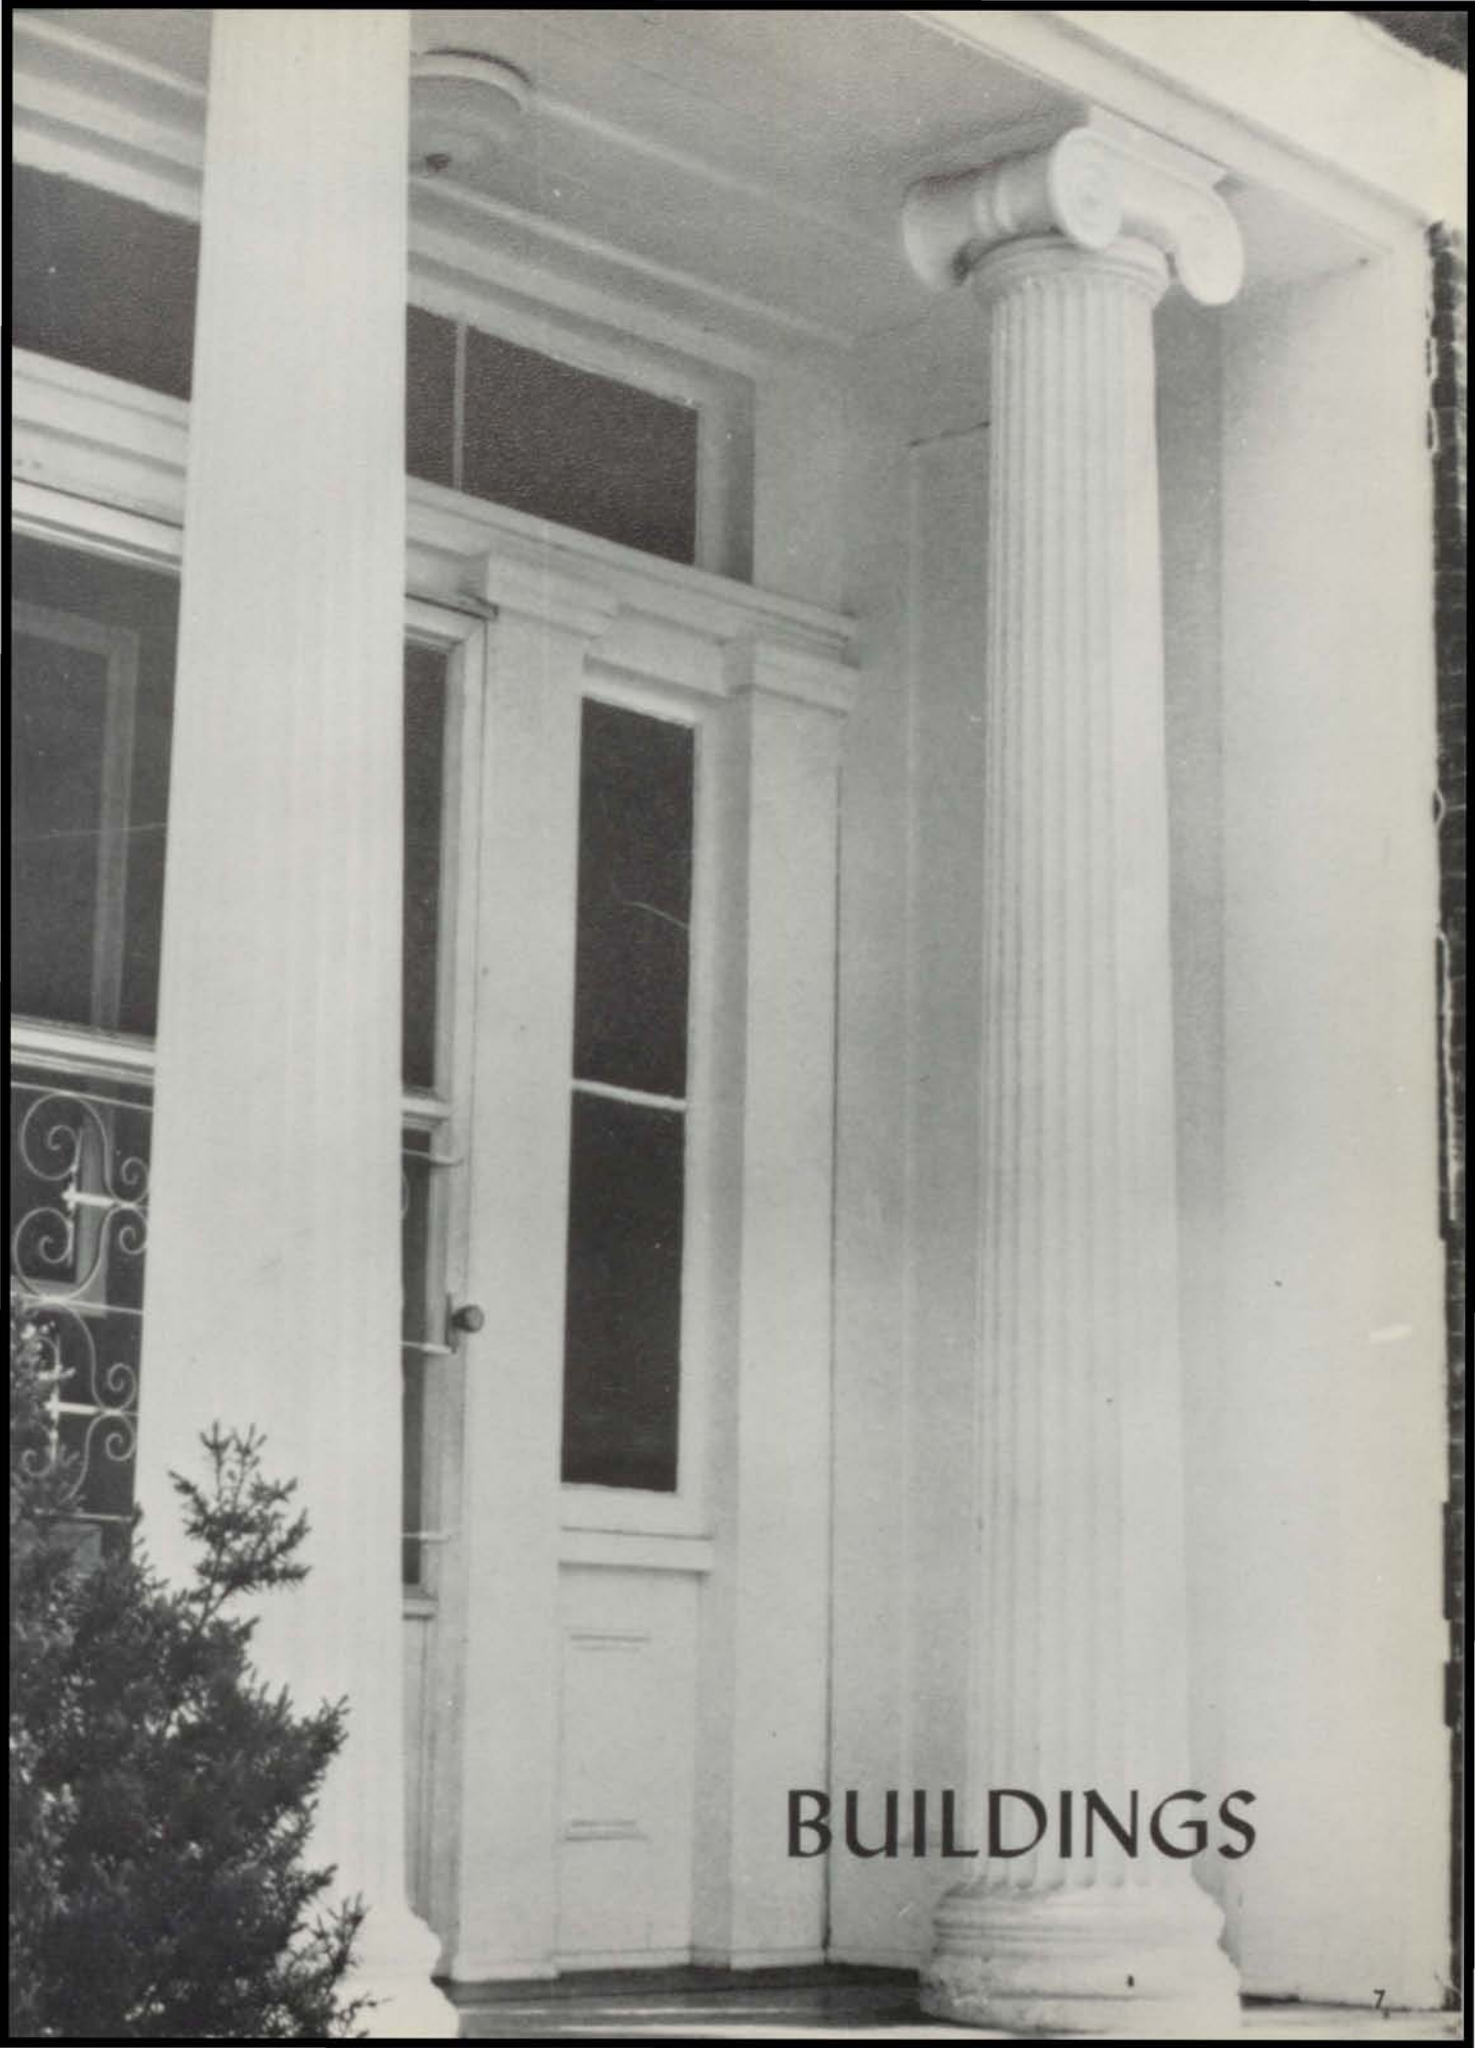

Millersburg Is Located in the Heart of Kentucky's Blue Grass Region

A Blue Grass horse farm near Lexington.

Beautiful horse farms dot the Blue Grass landscape. Roads, lined with rail fences, pass over green, rolling country side—some of the most productive agricultural land in the world.

BUILDINGS

MILLER HALL: This fireproof dormitory was built in 1946 and accommodates about 75 cadets.

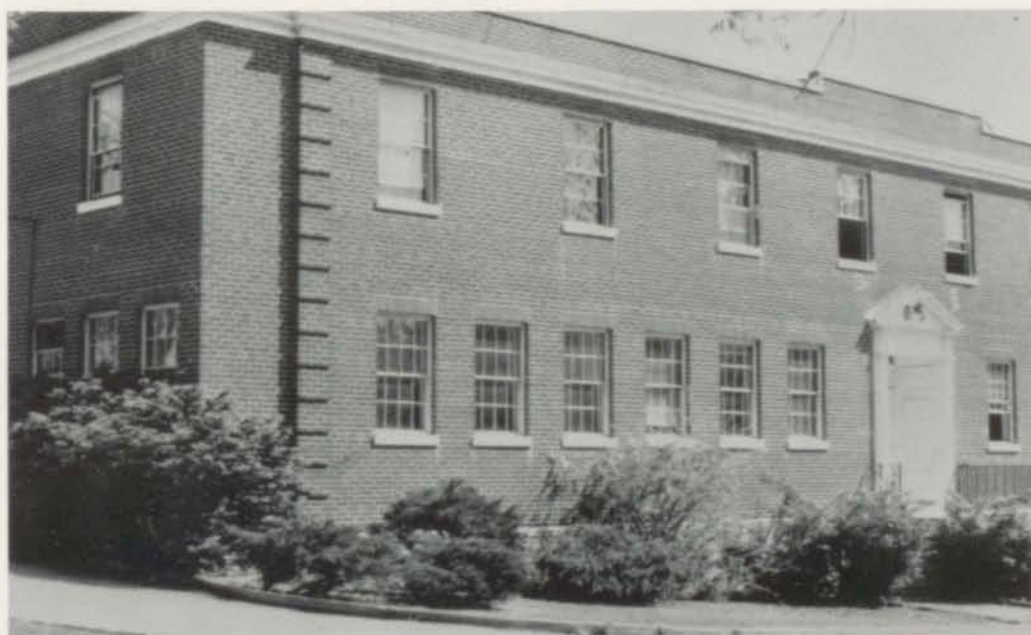

THE ADMINISTRATION BUILDING: Built in 1851, this stately colonial mansion is a fine example of early Kentucky architecture. The building houses the President's Office, reception rooms, and the Business Office.

MOFFET HALL: This two-story red brick building houses Band Company.

RANKIN HALL: This structure provides space for classroom facilities and barracks for B Company.

Homecoming

School had hardly started before it was Homecoming time once more. We worked for days making floats and getting everything ready. The big day finally came and everything was perfect. The temperature was in the 70's—fine football weather. During the morning, we had a parade through town and after lunch, our football team stomped over Madison Model—25 to 12.

Majorettes came from other schools to perform during half time . . .

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Members of the honor society were selected by a group of faculty members on the bases of character, scholarship, leadership, and service. Membership in the society is the highest academic honor attainable by high school students. The M.M.I. Chapter was founded in 1938 and since has become a fixed tradition of this school.

Field Day

FIELD DAY, 1964—The Memorial Day weekend brings parents and friends who may have traveled hundreds of miles to be on hand. From Award Night on the Eve of Field Day to Dismissal after Graduation Exercises on Sunday morning, the events crowd each other. Promptly at 8 a.m. on Saturday the band strikes up, and the parade moves out of the red brick gates at M.M.I. Proud Cadet Officers escort their lovely sponsors at the head of marching columns. Polished metal and white web belts glisten in the morning sunshine. From the sidewalk click and grind the cameras, recording the impressive display. The parade ends on the M.M.I. parade field, where in colorful ceremonial the sponsors are presented to Colonel and Mrs. Haynes. Then begins the drill competition, company by company. B Company wins the Company Drill Award, although the platoon honors go to the 2nd Platoon of A Company. Individual arms manual competition is even closer, until the top man on the field is saluted by the judging officer.

Even the Battalion Staff had to march . . .
