

THE YEAR
1973

SNIPER

A birds'-eye view of our campus and back to earth.

Miller Hall, where most of us live.

The lounge we fixed up for Federal.

Every parade begins with the Adjutant calling the Corps onto the parade ground.

Sgt. Spring lines things up in the Armory

And we settle down to learning how to handle our places.

The classrooms hum busily. . .

as does the library.

Recreation plays an important role. . .

in the daily routine.

Cameraderie on all levels helps to make life more enjoyable.

Whether it's hot. . .

whether we're winning. . . or losing

our lives here proceed at a measured pace.

We learn about war

and we learn about peace.

We have music made for us. . .

and we are very capable of making it for ourselves.

We know that we're here to learn

but sometimes it gets to be kind of a drag.

Our daily bread ladled out by Mr. Ritchie and Ruby and now and then a break in the routine.

which sometime really gets us off the campus.

But whether we're at work. . .

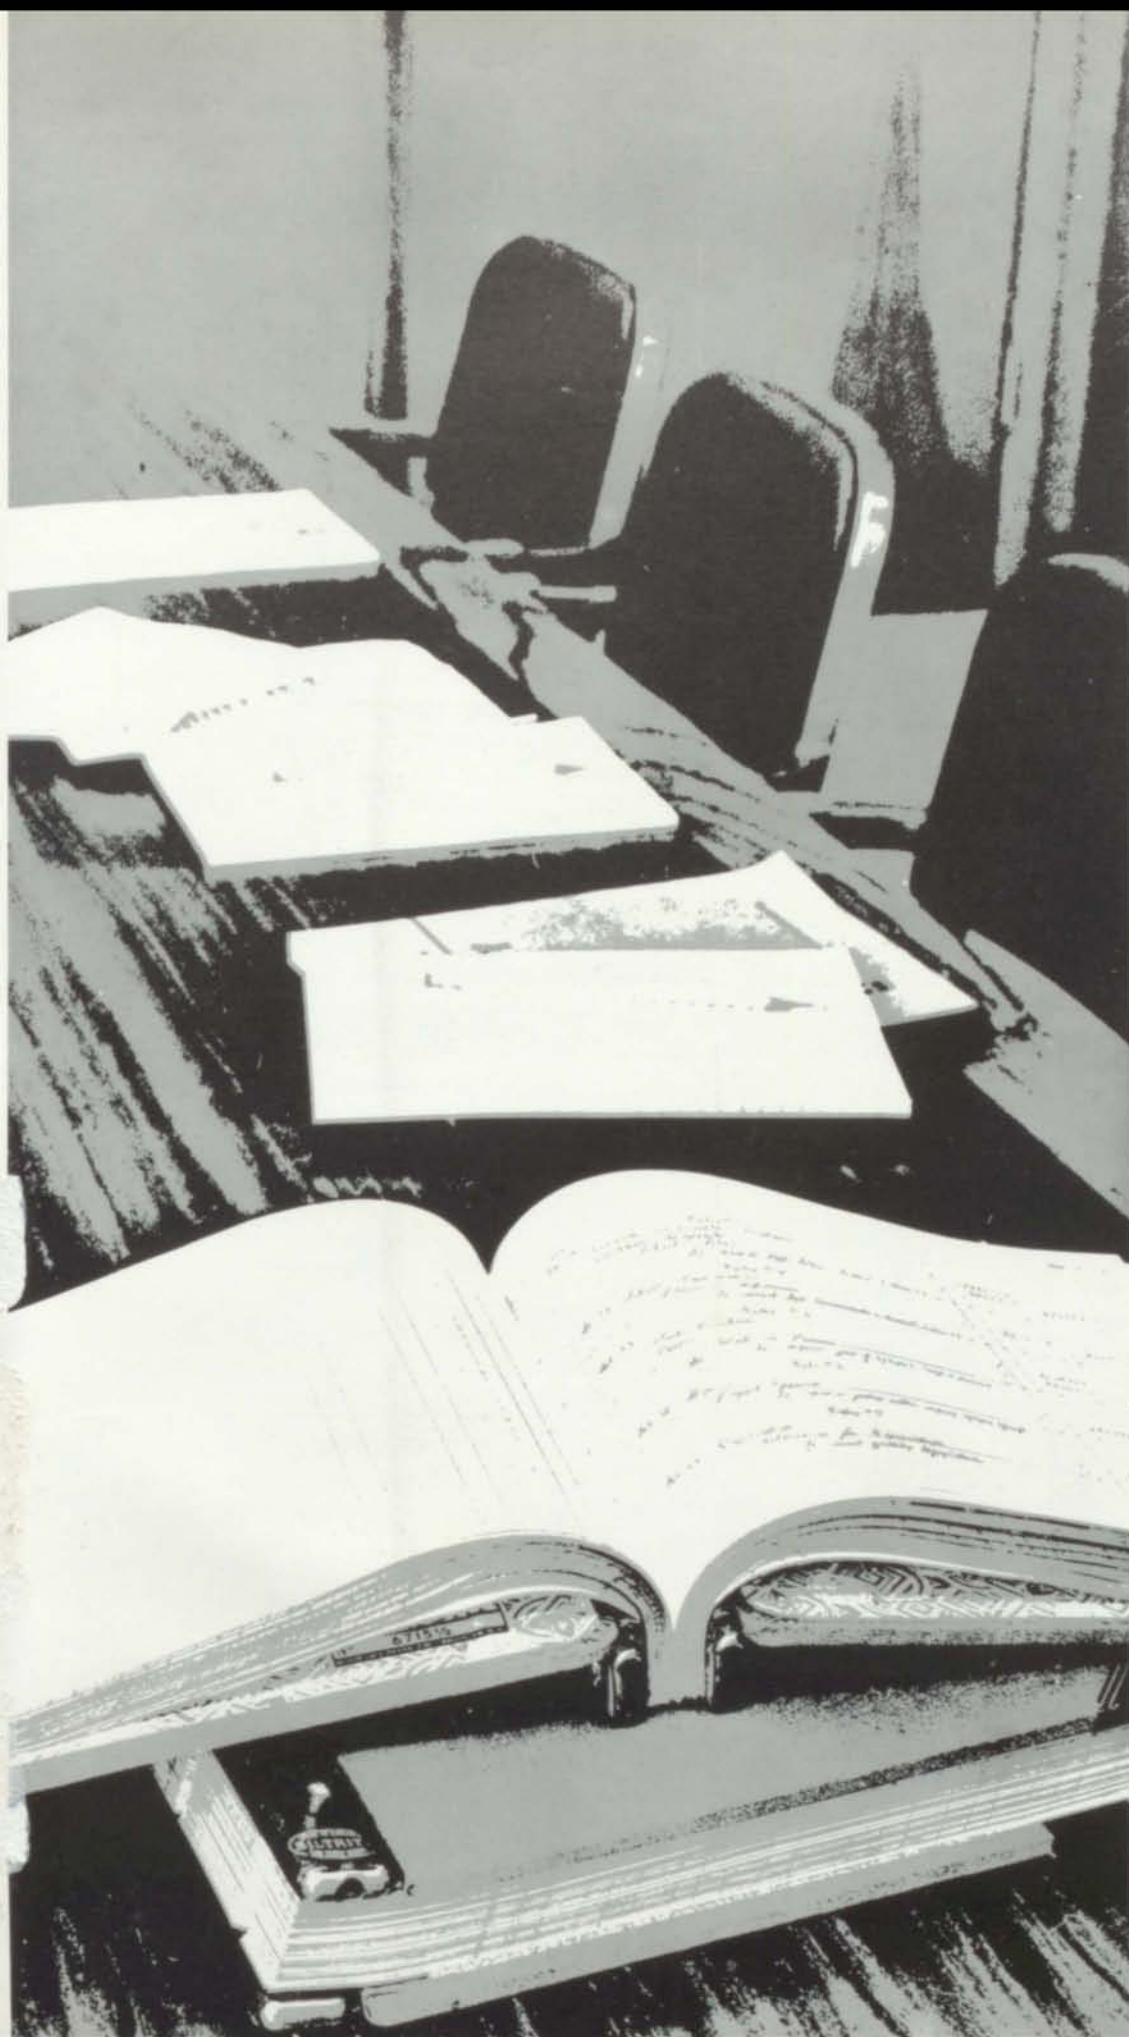

at play, we know that our lives here. . .

At M. M. I. have been happy and filled with the realization that we are well on the way to fulfill the hopes our parents had for us.

Mr. John Weaver, Tim Watley, Mr. Tony Wathen.

Hours are spent getting the barracks decorated for Homecoming.

Here's the Band's idea of what should happen to the Pirates.

A CO.'s Pirates are already hanged.

More advise from Headquarters.

The bonfire gets started.

Next morning everybody lines up for the parade downtown.

The colors are still there, Sam.

And turning into the gate back home again.

The Sponsors are presente . . .

as the sky darkens

The Queen is crowned (Craver's young lady) and the Corps honors her and her Court with a Pass in Review.

Craig sighting the transit while . . . .

Rosselott and Horton try to load a mortar at the weapons display in the gym.

The Army helicopter arrives and . . .

the boys start taking it apart immediately.

Everybody was sodden . . . . .

both on and off the field.

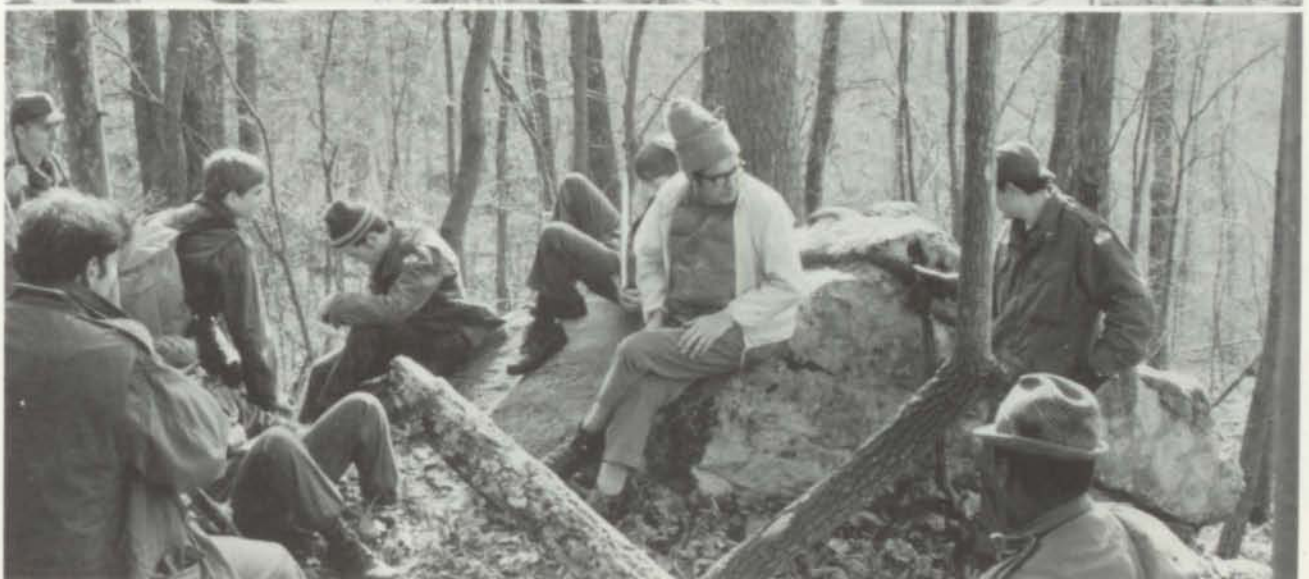

The boys all leave for a well-earned weekend.

And Kern enjoys a quiet campus.

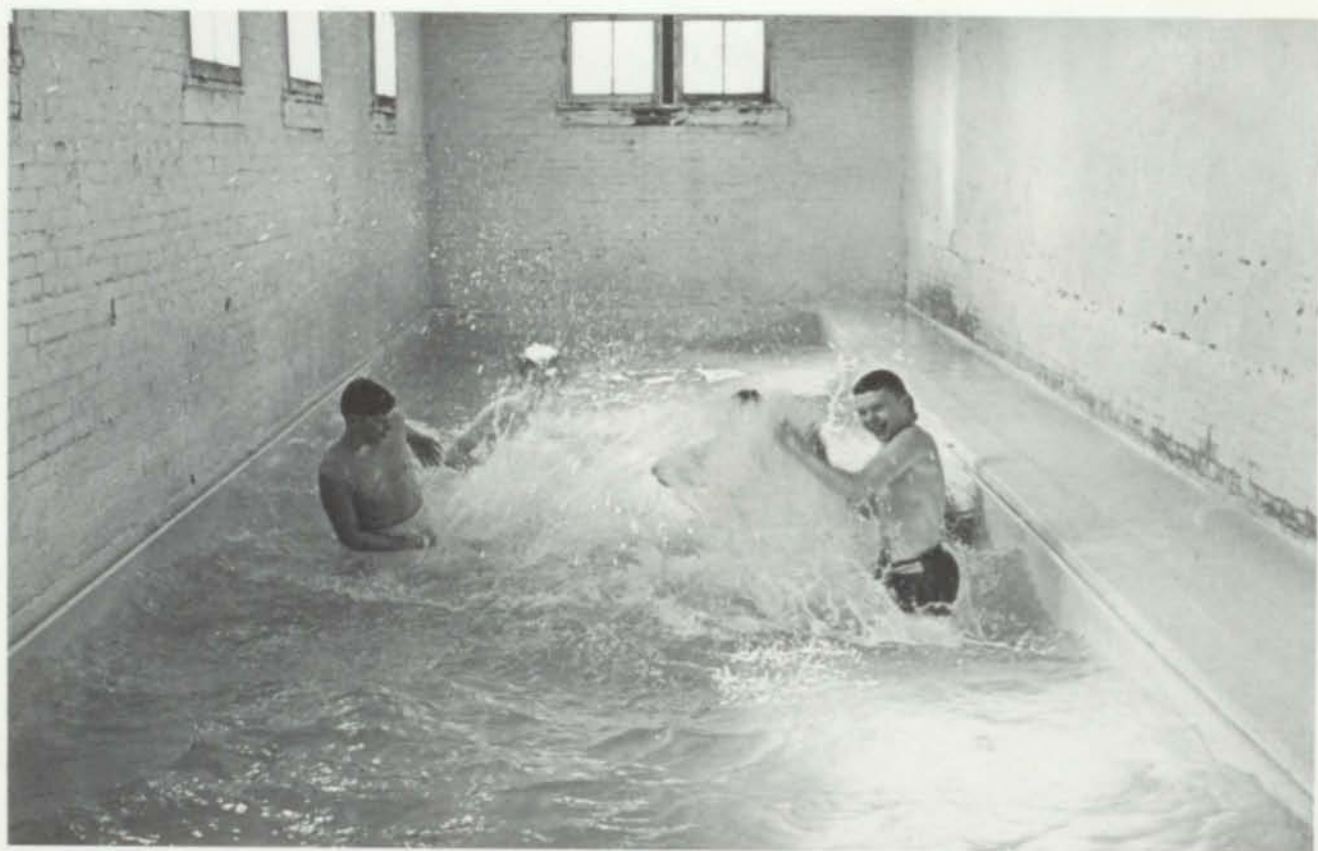

Those of us who lived too far had a great time hiking at Red River Gorge.

Faculty are always ready to give extra help.

The big tub at the Jr. School gets a good workout.

It's always good to get out of classes the day we have pictures taken for the annual.

The Key Club initiates its new members.

With the gym partially decorated Mrs. Taylor tries to make some order out of the rehearsal for the Grand March.

The receiving line went on and on . . .

"Long Shanks" making a conquest.

While the Froshies make conversation

The Grand March actually came off smoothly.

And Brad's girl, Kim Stevens was our queen.

They had no place to throw their shakos after the march.

And the noise began again.

"Sing Out Louisville" was a concert that WE could appreciate.

Two hands for beginners, but here, Tom Smith could use six!

Sarge tells George what has to be cleaned for Federal.

The Frosh always get stuck with the latrines.

Gilchrist makes sure he has all his buttons . . .

and these two are just playing around

Brad and Terry load up the "Hot Room" . . .

and our hair, real and phony, gets shaped up, too.

Colonel makes the final check of preparation.

Odell gets gone over.

My! What a brace!

Sarge does his thing.

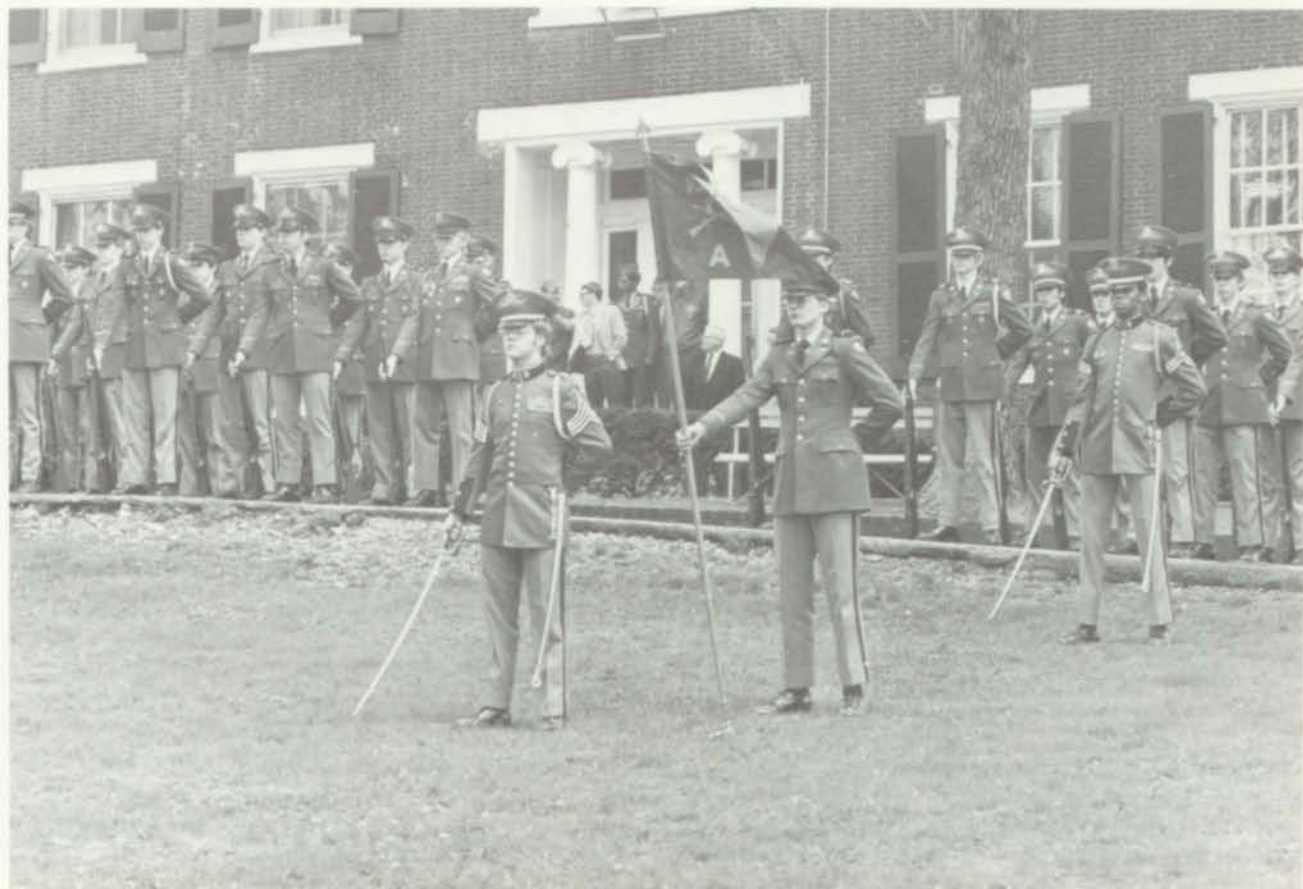

Time out for lunch.

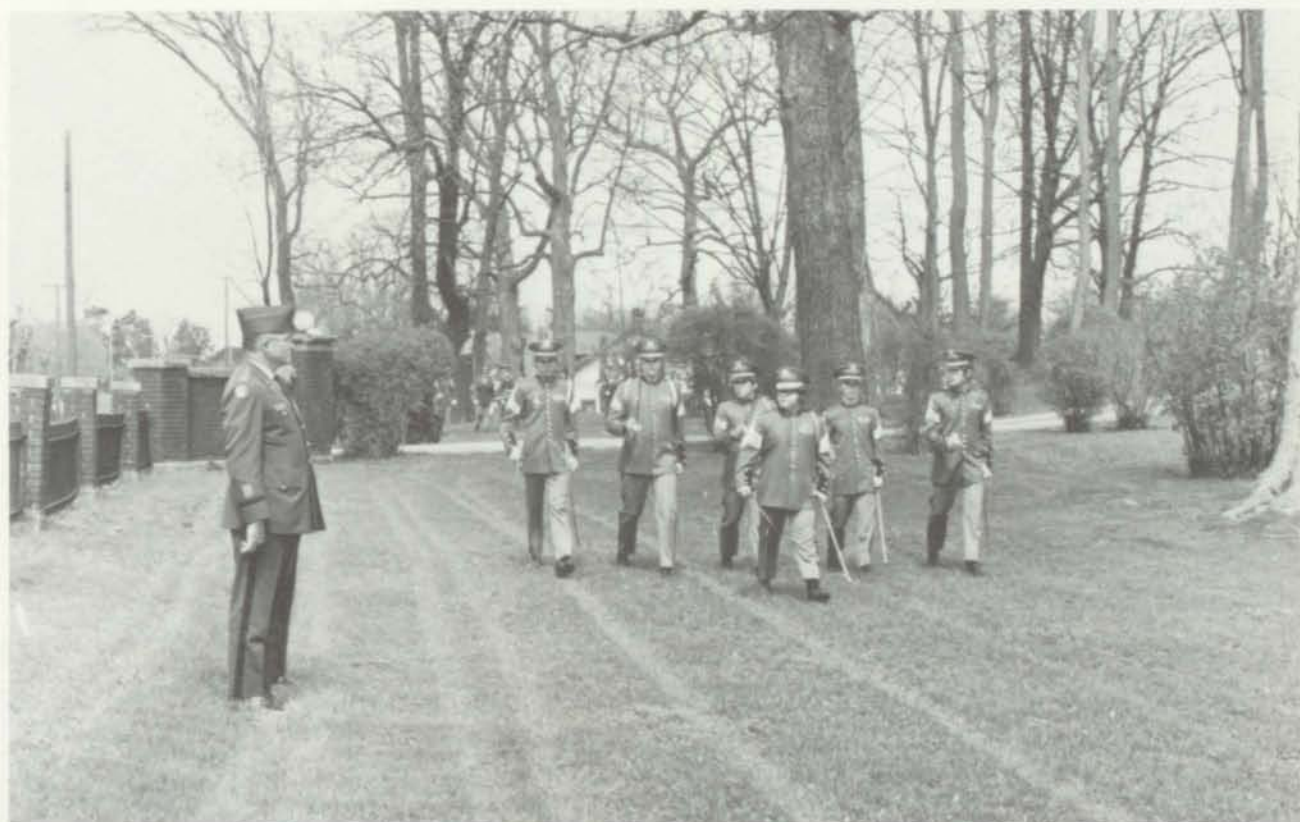

And the Inspectors descend on Sgt. Spring's bailiwick.

So far, everyone has been pleased and . . .

the Corps struts its stuff as a finale to one of our best Federal Inspections.

Bill Young shows the teachers how to run a classroom.

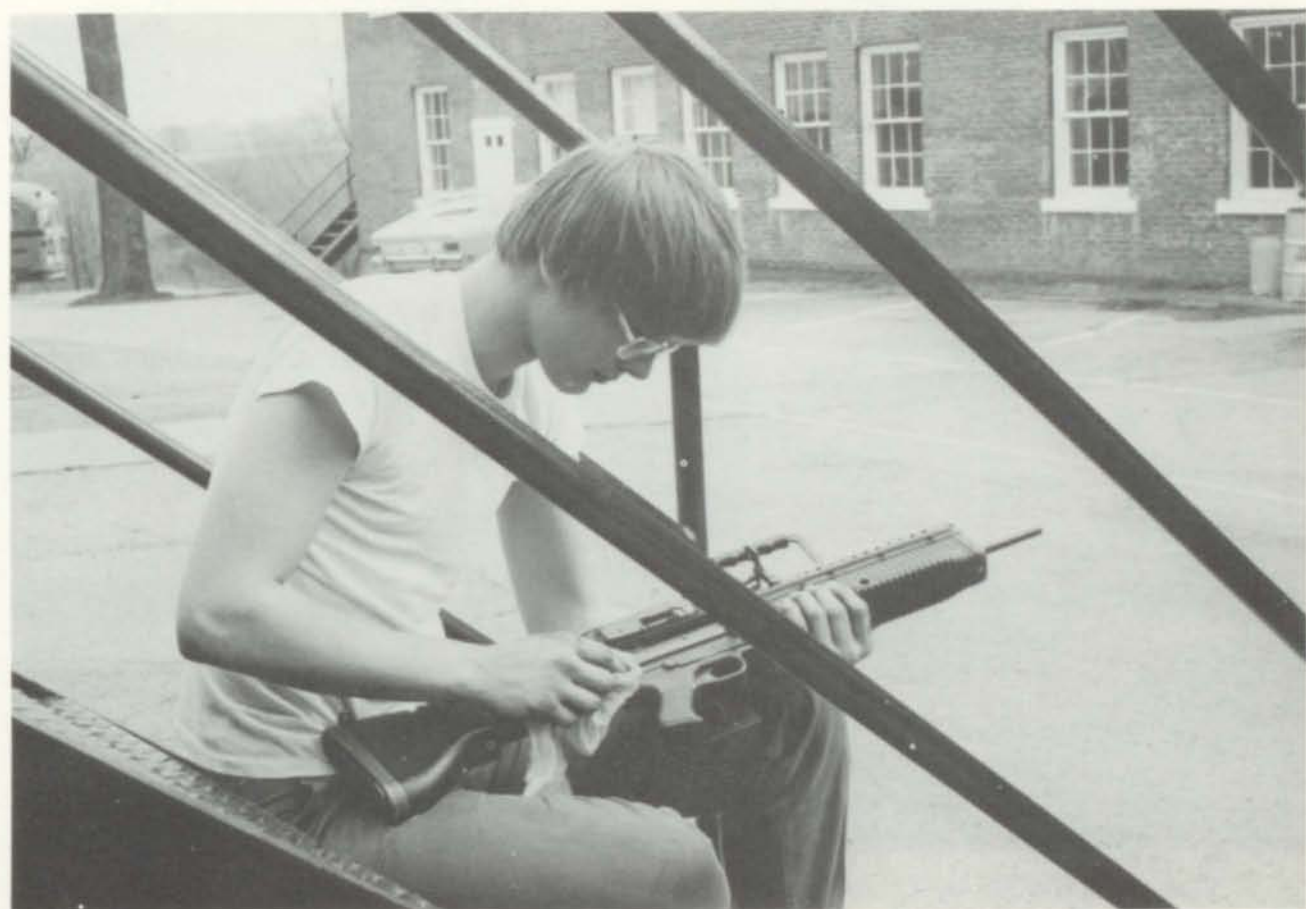

The tennis team waits its turn to cut down Lafayette.

We had some real rooter-tooters at the basketball games.

Perry gets ready for a peaceful weekend at home.

Stumpy gets the clothing room straightened out.

George does the same for Craig.

The dummies aren't all on the team.

The flag comes down on another day at Junior School.

Miss Cleaver figures up our breakage fees.

Come on Ruby, how about some more.

The executive committee decides who, what, how, when and where.

While most of us don't mind getting dressed up and walking around with a girl . . . .

Some of us would rather make our own music and do our own thing.

Drilling for field day with our rifles locked up in the armory.

Clark Wittmer sounds off for another Sunday dress parade.

Off we go downtown for the last time.

3rd Platoon presenting itself for a performance which it hopes will win.

Stumpy hands the brigade over to James Mel.

Mark deservedly gets the wrestling award.
