ACADEMICS

BOURBON MEETS REQUIREMENTS

States across the nation have been seeking ways to improve education. Kentucky, likewise, continually seeks to upgrade its educational program and, this year, has made a significant change toward these efforts. The state has increased the number of credits required for graduation from 18 to 20 and has increased the required number of credits for English and math. Bourbon County, already in compliance with the credits required for graduation, immediately began increasing students' schedules to reflect the increase in math and English credits. Two courses — Introduction to Algebra I and Basic Geometry — will be added next year in a continual effort to meet the needs of students on a local level. MRS. CHARLOTTE HANEY, above, discusses an ENGLISH assignment; below, MRS. KATHY MACKIE prepares for MATH class.

Four teachers work with math students on the high school level. This year's course offerings include: WALKER DEAN: Algebra I, II, General Math I; RUTH LITER: Geometry, General Math II; KATHY MACKIE: General Math I, Algebra I, Trigonometry/Calculus; MELISSA SANDERS: General Math II, Algebra I.

Bourbon's English Department has a variety of classes for students at each level in the high school. Subjects, listed by teachers, are: DON ADAMS: Oral Communication and Drama, English I, French I, II; KATHY CARTER: English II, III, IV; MAGDALENE DAVENPORT: Spanish I, II, III; LYLE EADS: English I, II, III, Health and Physical Education; CHARLOTTE HANEY: English II, III, IV; JUDY KNAPP: Reading; SARAH STEPHENS: English I, III, IV and LYNDA UMFRESS: Gifted and Talented, English III, Journalism I, II. Additional out-of-class responsibilities include: Don Adams: French and Drama Clubs and play; Magdalene Davenport: Spanish Clubs; Lyle Eads: Assistant Basketball Coach and Lynnda Umfress: LePetit Colonel adviser.

STUDENTS HAVE ELECTIVES

Students have a varied selection of elective courses open to them, including drafting, below, and art, at right. In the INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT, courses included General Drafting, General

Electricity and Architectural Drafting under JOHN ENGLISH, and General Woods and Crafts with MIKE HOLMES. In the ART DEPARTMENT, Judy Hall offers Art I, Art II and Specialized Art I.

Bourbon County's SOCIAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT will undergo a complete personnel change in the coming year. The high school will be losing valuable teaching experience with the retirement of Melvin Farley and Cecil Grimes and the loss of Deborah Furbish to private out-of-state employment. Jim Ishmael will return in the fall with three teachers new to the system. This year's course offerings include Chemistry I, Biology I with MELVIN FARLEY; Biology I and Int. General Science with DEBORAH FURBISH; and Introduction to Chemistry and Physics, Physics I and Int. General Science with CECIL GRIMES. JIM ISHMAEL taught Introduction to Science, Biology I and Introduction to Computers. At right, students in the Science Department take a short break from class with Mrs. Furbish.

Additional electives are those found in the AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT where three teachers combine their efforts in the following areas: JIM CLEAVER: Agribusiness I, Agri-production I; JOHN FRITSCH: Agribusiness II, Agriproduction II; RALPH SPEAKES: Agribusiness I, Horticulture.

Students may also choose DRIVER EDUCATION with RUSS DAY as the instructor.

MUSIC is offered to students in both choral and instrument classes. BRENDA SABEL is the choral music director, and DAN EBERLEIN coordinates the band program at Bourbon.

HOME ECONOMICS classes at the high school include PAT WILSON teaching Adult Living, Foods I and II; and KAREN PICKRELL teaching Clothing Construction, Housing, Comprehensive Home Economics, Parenthood and Child Care. HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION instructors are KATHY JOHNSON (below) and MIKE REITZ. CAPTAIN WILLIAM HORNE and CHIEF

RAYBURN JARRED have provided instruction in NAVAL ROTC I, II, III and IV. For lack of students, these classes may not be offered in the fall.

Five teachers supply SPECIAL SERVICES at Bourbon — FRANCES ABELL (above) Social Studies, U.S. History, English; JANET COMPTON, Science, Biology, Pre-Vocation; CASSIE LEAR, English; KAREN MITCHELL, Math; PAULA OTT, Job Orientation and Supervision.

BUSINESS Students (below in Data Processing with Mrs. Engle) may choose from — Introduction to Business, Typing I, Shorthand I, LAURA BRADFORD; Typing I, Business Law, Data Processing, SANDRA ENGLE; Model Office, Business Communication, Typing II, MARTHA POE and Accounting I, II, SARA REDWINE.

Students, likewise, have choices for meeting their basic history requirements. Teachers in the SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT and their course offerings are DONA CONRAD: U.S. History, Political Science, Global Issues;

LARRY CONRAD: Psychology, Sociology, Contemporary Health; DUANE STEWART: World Civilization, U.S. History; ROBERT TURNER: Human Geography, Basic Economics, U.S. History, World Civilization. At left, is Mr. Turner in one of his final teaching assignments at Bourbon. Retiring at the end of this year, Mr. Turner is to become a sales representative for Britanica.

Bourbon's modern, current library provides service for all areas of education at the high school. Computers and typewriters are available for individualized work and study by the students. Teachers are able to check out video equipment for recording within the classroom or playing cassettes back from pre-recorded software. LIBRARIAN KAREN GALLOWAY is aided by BARBARA FISCHER in assisting students and teachers.

Le PETIT COLONEL TAKES TOP HONORS AT EASTERN KENTUCKY UNIVERSITY

For the first time ever, Le Petit Colonel has won the Best Overall Newspaper award for the AA Division at EKV/Sigma Delta Chi Newspaper contest, receiving first-place awards in news, sports and editorial writing. Seniors Pam Green and Margaret Ann Ross were recognized as outstanding broadcast and journalism students, respectively. In October at UK Press day, senior Desiree Huffman won first place in feature writing and senior Brian Sosby won first place in layout and design. Headed by editor-in-chief Patty Lynch, Le Petit Colonel received a superior rating from the Southern Interscholastic Press Association for the fourth consecutive year.

SYBIL WOODWARD CAPTURES CROWN

For the past three years, Sybil Woodward has been a member of the Bourbon County High School Homecoming Court. This year is no exception, except that Sybil's classmates chose her as their queen. Sybil, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Woodward, was crowned during half-time activities of the Bourbon-Rowan County football game.

COLONELS DOWN VIKINGS

When the Rowan County Vikings came to town, they may have already decided they were going to spoil Bourbon County's football homecoming celebration. This was not to be, however, as the Colonels allowed the Vikings only one touchdown; soundly defeating the visitors by a score of 28-6. The victory not only pleased the packed home-standing stands, but added the finishing touch of success to the school's homecoming ceremony. At left, (l-r), quarterback Wayne Mogge hands off successfully to Jay Price.

Tim Fuller, Desiree Huffman and Machel Sapp share a laugh in the classroom.

When a young, first-year teacher arrives on the scene prepared to teach, she often finds seemingly unmanageable classes which interfere with the greatest of teaching plans. Such was the scene which Sylvia Barrett (Pam Green) encountered on her arrival for her first teaching assignment in an inner city high school. Frustration — her immediate reaction — was replaced with determination as she overcomes all obstacles to begin her second year with confidence. Brian Sosby and Bill Cobb had the male leads in the play which was presented to the public on April 19. Separate productions were held for freshmen and sophomores and for juniors and seniors.

The juniors carried out the theme of the prom — "Hawaiian Sunset" using grass huts, surfers, various ocean scenes, palm trees and island gods. "the usual suspects" provided the music for the event.

BOURBON MAY LOSE NJROTC UNIT

The year 1984 may mark the end of the Bourbon County High Naval Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps Unit. A lack of students has forced the Navy to consider transferring the unit to a new location. Although the decision is still pending, the chances are slim that Bourbon will have the unit returning in the fall.

The unit began in 1972 with Commander David J. Martz and Chief Petty Officer Gordon W. Arnold. Officers following included Commander Jack Tetrick, Chief Jess Bland, Commander M.T. Meaney and the present officers — Chief Rayburn Jarred and Captain William Horne.

Though small in number, the cadets have completed a year filled with exciting and learning experiences. In addition to carrying out regular classroom activities and meetings, the cadets participated in drill meets, observed a performance by the Marine Corps Silent Drill Team, traveled to Great Lakes for the annual mini-boot camp and held the annual NJROTC Military Ball.

COUNCIL MEMBERS INITIATE ANNUAL HOMECOMING WEEK

Student Council members serve as representatives for the student body. Students present problems or concerns to their representatives; the representatives examine the issues and, if warranted, take the matter up with school officials.

Each year Student Council members are responsible for directing the school's homecoming activities. In an effort to increase interest in homecoming, the 1983-84 council members sponsored what is hoped to become an annual week of activities prior to the crowning of the queen. Kerry Elliott, right, displays award-winning ribbons.

At Christmas, some council members created hand-made Christmas gifts which were presented to the school's staff.

COACHES WIN GAME "150" AT BOURBON

Successful baseball seasons at Bourbon are nothing new. This year's 19-5 record, the best since 1978, adds to that success. A standout in this year, however, is the record win — 150 games — at Bourbon, for the coaches, Head Coach Larry Conrad and Assistant Coach Mike Holmes. The coaches (at right with assistant Nelson Faris) have compiled a 175-93 record in their ten years of coaching. The Colonels took a record nine consecutive wins into district play, finishing as district runner-ups and advancing to regional play, before bowing out with a 19-5 mark.

KERRY ELLIOTT HURLS "NO-HITTER"

On May 5, Bourbon County faced the Pendleton County Wildcats in a double header — winning both games — in a contest that saw senior Kerry Elliott strike out eight batters and walk one, to be only the third pitcher to pitch a no-hit game at Bourbon. Kerry's no-hitter came two years after the last, that pitched by Bourbon's Rodney Taylor in 1982. This play is typical of that played by the Baseball Colonels as they finished the year with an undefeated record on their home diamond.

The 1984 Colonels improved greatly over the 1983 season, with Kevin Fryman, Alain Cassagne, David Huston, Chris Holbrook, Brad Bannister and Jamie Hiles leading the way. To complete the season, Bourbon County finished regional play ahead of 14 other area high schools. Senior Kevin Fryman, left, along with Alain Cassagne received Co-Most Valuable Player honors for the year. Team members, below, with Coach Mike Reitz, are Jamie Hiles, Brad Bannister, Kevin Fryman, David Huston, Alain Cassagne and Jamie Holbrook.

COLONELS SET RECORDS

It was a season of dreams come true for the boys' basketball Colonels as Russ Day put together a scrappy bunch of players who went all the way to the state tournament finals.

The Colonels rolled to a 6-0 start including a blowout of cross-town rival Paris. Along the way, led by Jeff "Rolls" Royce, the Colonels managed to post a 19-8 record before going into district play.

Royce, together with starters Kevin Fryman, Jeff Graves, Wayne Mogge and Tracey Thomas, captured the district title and regional crowns plus a trip to the Sweet Sixteen.

Bourbon was considered a darkhorse in the state shootout, but the Colonels managed to outgun the bigger men from first Marshall County (65-62), then Ballard (74-72) and M.C. Napier (57-56) before falling to State Champion Logan County 83-70.

Highlights of the year included the 500th win for Coach Russ Day, the naming of Royce to the all-state team, the naming of Graves and Moggee to the honorable mention all-state team and the naming of Mogge and Royce to the all-state tournament squad.

For the first time in the history of Bourbon County, a Colonel, Jeff Royce, was named to receive the Ted Sanford award emblematic of scholarship, leadership and athletic ability.

COACH OF YEAR GETS LOOK-A-LIKE DOLL

Russ Day's parents threw away the pattern when he was made, but Sherry Bradford's talents were called upon to produce a look-a-like doll (complete with famous red sweater) which the ball players could present to their coach. COLONELS LOOK TO FUTURE

LADY COLONELS SET RECORD

Although the record will not support these facts, Coach Jim Ishmael's young and inexperienced girl basketball players played with much determination all year and made great improvement toward the end of the season. The future holds promise for next year, with three seniors and a group of strong juniors returning. The highlight of this year's play came in the 87-point school record set in the Lady Colonels' game against Nicholas County. Dust-bowl play, basketball camp and an early-conditioning program will get the girls ready for the tip-off tournament at Boone County.

VICTORIES, VICTORIES AND MORE VICTORIES . . .

The football and basketball teams accomplished many hard-fought victories. The football team had a winning record for the first time in 15 years, and the basketball team came out on top in the district and region and finished runner up in state competition. Although we only stand on the sidelines and cheer, we feel the excitement of winning and the pain of losing. Nevertheless, we enjoy and celebrate our own victories, which are accomplished with the support of our fans and team, including first place in the Montgomery County Tournament, first in the Erlanger Lloyd Tournament and first in SWEET 16. We placed second in our district.

"SWEET 16" CHAMPS TAKE THE FLOOR ...

You might say the Bourbon County Boys' Varsity cheerleaders were happy to be named the best cheerleading squad of the 16 squads in competition during the "Sweet 16" high school boys' basketball tournament at Rupp Arena. Shandra Griggs, Sybil Woodward and Donna Mogge lead the way as they race to pick up their trophy. The award was presented at Rupp Arena between the Friday night games.

Cheerleading is more than performances, practice sessions and competitions. It's more than getting the players fired up for a game. Its true purpose is to improve and inspire school spirit and to increase pride in our school and its representatives. That's what this year's squad did as they cheered for all girls' varsity games. The cheerleaders, below are: Dana True, Sarah Engle; Vicki Wilson, Judy Edwards, Trudy Parrish; Sherri Bailey, Tangy Taylor; Laura Taulbee, Shelley Conley. CROSS COUNTRY RUNNERS ADVANCE TO STATE FINALS

CAROLINS GET STATE HONORS

Cross Country continues to be one of Bourbon's most successful sports, with state qualifications for the sixth straight year in the boys' division and an individual qualification for Missy Carolin in the girls' race.

During most of the season, the boys' team was led by junior Mike Crown (top, left) and senior Bobby Carolin (left), who finished second and fifth, respectively, in the regional finals at Anderson County. Freshman Missy Carolin (right) was regional runnerup for the girls. Missy went on to gain All-State Second Team honors, while her brother, Bobby, was All-State Honorable Mention.

As a team, the boys' most successful performance came in the first annual Montgomery County Invitational when they grabbed runner-up honors in a 15 team field. Later in the season, the boys were third in the regional behind Franklin County and Jessamine County, missing the runner-up trophy by one point.

The season was highlighted by early morning workouts each day and a carbohydrate-loading feast for three consecutive days before regional trials. The annual awards dinner was held at Van Hoose Steak House before a packed audience of parents and friends. Certificates, letters and senior plaques were presented by Coach Duane Stewart, and the team gave an engraved watch to the coach.

TRACK TEAMS UNDEFEATED DURING REGULAR SEASON

Bourbon's track teams added another outstanding year to the record. During the regular season, the Colonels were undefeated in dual, triangular and quadrangular competition. They opened the season April 3 with a thrashing of Woodford County and Paris; destroyed Scott County the next week; capped off the season with a good win over Harrison and Paris and smashed Mason County and Bath County in the season finale.

Once, again, the Colonel Relays proved successful, as 21 teams from across the state competed on May 5 — the 20th occasion that Bourbon has hosted this prestigious event.

Individually, several people stood out during the season with good qualifications to the state semi-finals; Sybil Woodward, long jump; Missy Carolin, mile and two mile; Pam Webb, shot and discus; Tracy

Sloan, 400 meters; Michelle Raglin, 100 and 300 meter hurdles; Sybil Woodward, Lucy Hilke, Veda Vaughn and Michelle Raglin, 800

Also, Butch Martin, pole vault; Mike Davis, high jump and triple jump; Jeff Royce, 100 and 200 meters and long jump; Bobby Carolin, mile, 800 and two mile; Mike Crown, 800 and 400; Larry Myers, 300 meter hurdles; Myers, Dwayne Mattox, Royce and Crown, 800 meter relay. Michelle Raglin, Mike Davis, Butch Martin and Pam Webb advanced to the state finals.

COLONELS BECOMING GRIDIRON POWER

1984 was a special year for Bourbon football fans. The Colonels' 6-5 record was the first winning season after 15 years. Starting the year optimistically, with an impressive 29-20 win over the Scott County Cardinals, the Colonels then traveled to Clark County where, despite outgaining the Cardinals yardage-wise, they lost 35-7. The Colonels' 76-7 victory over Rowan County was a high point of homecoming. Two impressive wins over district foes, Mason County (49-37) and Harrison County (35-32) set up a crucial game with district powerhouse Newport Catholic. However, the Thorobreds were too much for the Colonels as they prevailed 49-7. The Colonels' sixth win of the year came against Anderson County. Bourbon County prevailed 21-14 against the Bearcats.

The Colonels ended the year on a proud note — the beginning of a new tradition of excellence in Bourbon County High School football. In only two seasons of play, Head Coach Wilson Sears' techniques and 'know-how' have brought the Colonels into a new era of football for Bourbon County.

Coach Sears, far left, in a game situation and, below, with assistant coaches (l-r) Bill Fooks, John English and Mike Reitz, also serves as the assistant principal of the high school.

JV AND FRESHMEN HAVE WINNING SEASONS

The 1983 Junior Varsity season was outstanding, with the Colonels beating their opponents 4-1; including wins over Jessamine, Rowan and cross-town rival, Paris.

The 1983 Freshman football team began the season on a slow point, with losses to Harrison and Rowan, but exploded in the three games which followed, to out-score their opponents 78-8 (including two shutouts); leaving them with a season record of 3-2. The young Colonels beat Mason twice and Fleming once.

MARGARET ROSS RECEIVES CAPTAIN AWARD

Curtis Rose' Bourbon County High "Netters", although "short on experience," were "long on desire."

The young team had one lone senior — Margaret Ann Ross, below, who received the Captain Award for outstanding leadership. With two juniors, three sophomores and the remaining players seventh, eighth and ninth graders, Coach Rose sees a bright future ahead.

HEATHER CROWN SEES STATE ACTION

RAIN HAMPERS TENNIS PLAY

ART CLUB DESIGNS CALENDARS

1984 Art Club members completed a calendar which consisted of historical Bourbon County homes and other places of interest. Revenue from the calendar sale was used to purchase a trophy case for art work display in the lobby. Face painting was done during district and state tournament games and a weightlifter was designed and painted for the new locker room.

BETA CLUB ESTABLISHES SPECIAL RECOGNITION PLAQUE

BETA CLUB officers, (l-r) are: Sannie Overly, president; Kim Ransdell, secretary; Jennifer Mauersberger, senior vice-president; Jeff Stivers, treasurer; Nathaniel Pribble, junior vice-president.

This year's Beta Club has managed many useful and worthwhile projects. The beginning of the year, the club sponsored a tutorial service for all students wishing to take advantage of this. The Beta Club members were the proposed tutors who were responsible for teaching the students. The club also sponsored a candy sale in order to purchase a special recognition plaque. This plaque will be in the lobby in order to recognize those students who have maintained a 3.8 G.P.A. or better. Students who have held a 4.0 G.P.A. will have a star engraved beside their names. This is the first year that this has been initiated, and the Beta Club hopes to make it a traditional event. Ms. Lynda Umfress sponsors the group.

BOURBON PLAYERS VIEW Le Médecin Malgré Lui

The 1983-84 Speech and Drama Club, otherwise known as the Bourbon Players, enjoyed another year of club meetings and interesting and informative field trips. The club went to view a performance of "The Doctor in Spite of Himself" (Le Médecin Malgré Lui) presented by the National Theatre of Performing Arts at Lafayette High in Lexington. The members also enjoyed the club meetings where members performed skits and improvisations and listened to sound tracks of popular musical productions. At each club meeting, the members had refreshments and participated in a door-prize drawing. Don Adams, Drama instructor, completes his second year as sponsor for the club.

FRENCH STUDENTS COMPETE IN FOREIGN LANGUAGE FESTIVAL

TRACEY BATES EXCELS IN WRITTEN FRENCH PROFICIENCY

French students concentrated on the study of the language both in and out of the classroom, as well as being involved in regular club meetings. Four students (at left with Instructor Don Adams) participated in the Central Kentucky Regional Foreign Language Festival held March 24 at Georgetown College; with Tracey Bates winning first place in the Written French Proficiency competition. The students, l-r, are Sherry McCall, Tracey Bates, Carla Bates and Chris Speakes. Tracey also placed second in the same competition at the University of Kentucky State Meet. French Club officers, bottom-left, are: Donna Mattox, president; Mike Crown, sgt.-at-arms; Shandra Griggs, reporter; Kris Smits, treasurer; Donnie Von Gruenigen, second vice president. Absent officers were Desiree Huffman, first vice president and Tammy Martin, secretary.

Bourbon County High's Future Farmers continued a trend of successful participation in all areas of agriculture.

The yearly activities began early in July with Bourbon County Fair entries and attendance at Hardinsburg Leadership Training Center. In August, members participated in the Kentucky State Fair. During October and November, the annual corn and tobacco contest were held. The members also held Greenhand Initiation, and representatives attended the National FFA Convention. January, likewise, was busy, with a farm achievement contest, tobacco judging, Bluegrass Market Hog Show and seed corn selling. In February, the creed contest and chapter degree ceremony were held; National FFA Week was observed, and the members attended the National Farm Machinery Show. The members traveled to Morehead State University in April for a Field Day. The annual FFA Banquet was held in May, and the chapter's highest degree — the Honorary Chapter Farmer — was awarded to Bob Johnson and Kenney Williams (l-r, above) with president Philip Williams and secretary Becky McCall. During June, chapter members and advisers attended the FFA State Convention in Louisville. Advisers are Jim Cleaver, John Fritsch and Ralph Speakes. Regional participants are above, right.

FBLA ACHIEVES STATE HONORS

Members of Bourbon's Future Business Leaders completed a successful year of community and school activities. Fund-raising events including the sale of family portraits, a sock hop and a candy sale financed an FBLA-FHA Christmas Bazaar for Bourbon Heights, an FBLA Scholarship, a contribution to the National Building Fund and regional and state conference expenses.

Chapter members attended the organization's region and state conference. Honors include: STATE PROJECT, second, region; fifth, state (L. Harris); OUTSTANDING PROJECT, third, region; first state (G. Mers, K. Saylor); PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE, third, region (C. Dunaway, T. Gross, C. Hardy, S. Hedges and T. Scott); ACHIEVEMENT IN BUSINESS ADVOCACY, first, state (K. Ragland); MONEY MANAGEMENT, fifth, state (Jo A. Crump). Officers, l-r, are: Stephanie Grooms, secretary; Nancy Hager, treasurer; Sandy Hedges, president, Jenny Brown, historian; Bobby Turpin, parliamentarian. Vice president Phyllis Ryan was absent.

Future Homemakers of America members conducted many activities which led to a successful 1983-84 school year. Becky Jordan, Bourbon's local historian, was elected FHA Regional Reporter, an outstanding achievement for our school. FHA, in cooperation with FBLA, held a Christmas Bazaar at Bourbon Heights. This gave the elderly a chance to share in the joy of giving. Proceeds were returned to the home for next year. During FHA Week, the club held a red and white day, an exercise class, a movie/pizza party, and a teacher appreciation day.

4-H TO HOST STUDENTS

A very busy year was the agenda for 4-H members, with Doug Teague and Lyle Eads serving as advisers in carrying out the objectives. The members catered banquets, the proceeds going to 4-H Week, 4-H scholarships and the 4-H student exchange program. This year the group will host students from Valdosta, Georgia.

The members under co-chairmanship of Caren Guy, David Fletcher, and Ray Hamilton constructed and entered a float in the Christmas parade, an "Old Fashioned Christmas" being the theme.

Individual honors were compiled by Chris Stivers and Stacy Gillispie who attended the American Heritage Conference in Washington, D.C.; De-Anna Gillespie who was the recipient of the Conrad Feltner award for senior leadership and Becky Kuster who became the State Computer records champion.

Officers, at right, l-r, are Donnie Von Gruenigan, president; Veda Vaughn, vice president; Caren Guy, treasurer and reporter and Kim Ransdell, secretary

LIBRARY AIDES SURVIVE

Once again, library aides have managed to shelve through another year. The aides volunteer a portion of their school day to assist with varied duties in the library. An end-of-the-year reward for the aides was a trip to Derby Dinner Playhouse to see a performance of "Oklahoma."

SPANISH MEMBERS ENJOY HAYRIDE/FIESTA

The Spanish Club, one of the school's most active organizations, meets regularly each month, with this year's members enjoying the second annual Spanish Club Hayride/Fiesta and traveling to Lafayette High to see El Sombrero de tres Picos — "The Three Cornered Hat." Following the production, the group enjoyed dinner at El Toritos. Club Adviser Mrs. Magdalene Davenport announced a planned summer trip to Spain. Officers (above-right, l-r) are: Donald Gibson, Tony Chowning, Julie Atchison, Sandra Williams, Nathaniel Pribble, Kim Ransdell, president; Joe David Sears, Aaron Dahlstrom, Jessica Turner, Lisa Gray, The Executive council is at right; club members are below.

SHH SPONSORS VALENTINE CONTEST

A Valentine contest, dinner outing and initiation ceremony complemented regular monthly meetings for the enjoyment of Sociedad Honoraria Hispanica members this year. The Valentine Contest, held for students in all Spanish classes, gave the students an opportunity to create an original design depicting the Valentine theme. Winners were: first — Shelley Conley, Jule Lehman; second — Judy Edwards; third — Patricia McCormack; honorable mention — Alan Pruitt, Elizabeth Spears. In March, SHH members enjoyed dinner at Chi-Chi's, with Mrs. Bette Edwards as guest. The club's Annual SHH Initiation

PEP CLUB MEMBERS BOOST SCHOOL SPIRIT

Officers (below) Joe Bell, Sarah Fuell and Joe David Sears led their members throughout the year offering support in all winning and losing efforts. Perhaps their best effort, however, came in the pep rally at right staged prior to the first game in the "Sweet 16" basketball tournament. Much credit goes to the pep members for their support this year.

Anessa Jackson yells for Bourbon.

LOOK AT ME!

helped her win the title. Chosen by her senior classmates, Sybil also served as senior class president and varsity cheerleader co-captain. At the end of this season, Sybil completes four years of varsity cheerleading.

HONORS

... I'M PROUD.

The boys' varsity cheerleaders, below, exhibit their enthusiasm as they begin one of their award-winning cheers. The girls are:

Rebecca Caywood, Tammy Alafita, Shandra Griggs, Becky Hamilton, Sybil Woodward, Jenny Wells and Jule Lehmann.

PROJECT SEARCH "IN THE KNOW"

Project SEARCH, the Gifted and Talented Program at Bourbon County High, has taken a new lease on life this year, with English instructor, Lynda Umfress, as the new director. Many new activities were added to this year's agenda including participation in Channel 18's "In the Know" quiz show, National Current Events Quiz and work with a new computer program — the Career Assessment Computer Pilot Program. SEARCH students are below. Those participating in KET project (bottom, l-r) are: Pam Green, Desiree Huffman, Liz Farmer, Brian Sosby.

In order to receive credit for this program, students must complete a project, as in years past; but, this year, they were also required to submit a paper about their chosen area of interest. These papers were collected and bound in book form at the end of the year.

SEARCH students involved themselves with more than their individual projects. Some appeared on KET's Youth News Program (right) on an informative news cast about a particular school (i.e. Bourbon County). Students also traveled to the State Board of Education in Frankfort where they listened to issues of school policy and heard Governor John Y. Brown speak. Another group listened to former President Gerald Ford voice his opinions of world situations in the Henry Clay Symposium.

STUDENTS RECEIVE HONORS

Students and teachers gathered in the high school gymnasium for the annual awards program. Highlighting the event were the students (below) with 3.5 or better averages who signed the prestigious MAROON AND GOLD BOOK.

BIRDWELL IS SUPERINTENDENT OF THE YEAR

Superintendent Birdwell received many commendations and gifts from prestigious educators across the state. The recognition he received from his own faculties and staff may, however, have meant just as much or more to him. Jane Jolly, Director of Pupil Personnel, (right) poses with Mr. Birdwell's TOP BANANA award. Donna Brooks (top, left) gives Mr. Birdwell heart-felt congratulations. Rebecca McCarty (top, right) takes a break to look at "super-super" posters.

William Birdwell, Bourbon County Superintendent of Education, is this year's recipient of the highly-coveted F.L. Dupree Award. Mr. Birdwell received the award — the highest state honor given to an administrator — at the Kentucky School Boards Association's annual meeting in Louisville, February 5, 1984.

Nominated for the award by the Bourbon County Board, Mr. Birdwell was judged to be the Kentucky school superintendent who displayed the highest level of creative educational administration.

Mr. Birdwell is shown below viewing a local show of support and at left looking at state gifts of appreciation.

LOOK AT ME!

During school hours, you will usually find my teachers in their rooms. After hours, you will probably find many of them performing out-of-class responsibilities. Whether in or out of the classroom, they are helping me in my pursuit of excellence, and ...

... I'M LEARNING

Most teacher have students who excel and make them proud but few have students who bring honor and recognition to the school as did Jeff Royce. Jeff, at left with 10th REGION COACH OF THE YEAR, Russ Day, received the TED SANFORD AWARD for academic standing, character and outstanding performance in the Kentucky State Tournament.

BOURBON HAS "SUPER" YEAR

Bourbon County administrators continue their efforts to place the Bourbon County School system at the top in all educational categories. Students in the system, at all levels, seem to be taking advantage of their educational opportunities, as more and more students are entering — and succeeding — in both academic and extra-curricular activities.

Teachers and administrators, likewise, are being recognized for outstanding achievements. Superintendent William Birdwell, right, above, was named the STATE'S OUTSTANDING SUPERINTENDENT. Mr. Birdwell received the Kentucky School Boards Association's F.L. Dupree Award. Assistant Superintendent John Elkins is above, left.

ADMINISTRATIVE PERSONNEL (below, standing) are: Mrs. Rubelee Buzzard, Gifted and Migrant; Mark Barcelo, Special Projects Director; John Beardsley, Special Education Coordinator; (seated) Mrs. William Browning, Title I and Migrant Projects Director.

Mrs. Jane Jolly (below) is Director of Pupil Personnel

PRINCIPAL CASE IS PROUD

Few, if any, principals in the state, this year, can boast of having a finer academic or over-all sports program as can Principal William Case, right. Students excelled in all educational areas to give Bourbon one of the most outstanding school years in the history of the school.

Assistant Principal Wilson Sears (above) completes his second year at Bourbon County High School. Office Staff (right, l-r) includes: Mrs. Bette Edwards and Mrs. Louise Grimes.

BOURBON MAY LOSE NAVAL ROTC PROGRAM

MILITARY SCIENCE instructors (above-left, l-r) are Captain William Horne and Chief Rayburn Jarred. As the Colonel went to press, it was uncertain if Bourbon's NJROTC program would continue in the fall. A decision from the United States Secretary of the Navy will determine whether the unit will be discontinued due to a lack of student enrollment.

Teachers leaving Bourbon for purposes other than retirement (below) are Chief Rayburn Jarred, Deborah Furbish, Judy Knapp, Karen Pickrell and Captain William Horne. Capt. Horne has completed one year at Bourbon; Chief Jarred has seven years at the high school. Both are from the Military Science Department and are awaiting reassignment. Mrs. Furbish, with seven years at BCHS, plans to work as a secretary for her husband's company in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Mrs. Knapp will be teaching elementary students in Jessamine County, and Mrs. Pickrell is moving to Greenup County where her husband has been transferred.

Retirement is reducing the ranks at Bourbon County High. RETIRING TEACHERS (above, l-r) are William Sherlock, Robert Turner, Melvin Farley and Cecil Grimes. William Sherlock, guidance counselor at BCHS for 17 years, plans to begin private counselling on a full-time basis. Robert Turner, an instructor in Bourbon's Social Studies Department, is retiring with 28 years of teaching to his credit — ten at Bourbon. Mr. Turner plans to be a sales representative for Britanica. Melvin Farley leaves Bourbon with 35 years of teaching experience — 26 spent at BCHS, and his future plans include travelling. Colonel Cecil Grimes retires with his 1984 title — BOURBON COUNTY HIGH OUTSTANDING TEACHER. He was elected by high school teachers as their most outstanding teacher. Colonel Grimes has 18 years in the teaching field, 14 spent at Bourbon. His future plans, for the moment, hold nothing but "fun and sun."

We Made It!

1984 BASKETBALL SPECIAL

Five teams stood between Bourbon and the region crown. The Colonels had already decided to put all five in the win column but neglected to tell their fans, leaving them in suspense through Paris and Nicholas County wins in the district and through Bracken, Maysville and Pendleton outstanding victories

The pep rally held for the Colonels prior to their leaving for Lexington gave some of the players an opportunity to thank their fans for their continued support. At right, Tracey Thomas (wearing a protective bandage from a region injury) invites the fans to meet the team at Rupp Arena. Sybil Woodward, far right, leads crowd in a send-off cheer for the team.

Fans and parents mingled with faculty, staff and students to wish the Colonels well in state competition. Band members, right, gather on stage to give "musical" support to Colonels.

With first-place aspirations and a fire truck escort, Coach Russ Day (above), Assistant Mike Reitz (top) and Assistant Lyle Eads circled Paris and headed for the last phase of this year's basketball competition.

COLONELS WIN OPENER

Playing almost flawless ball from beginning to end enabled the Colonels to take a 65-62 win over Marshall (breaking their 23-game win streak) and set up a quarterfinal game with Louisville Ballard. The win came in overtime on a goal by Jeff Royce. Royce hit for 18, Mogge 15, Graves 14, Thomas 10 and Fryman 8 to win the game for Bourbon.

"Sweet 16" shirt.

Ashley Mogge, left, waits patiently to cheer for brother, Wayne, on the court or sister, Donna, on the sidelines.

Mrs. Virginia Dorsey, former librarian for Bourbon County, arrives early to lend her support for the Colonels.

COLONELS DOWN BALLARD

The second game for the Colonel lads against powerful Louisville Ballard inched them another notch up the ladder as, once again, the hard-fighting scrappers from Bourbon prevailed. Jeff Royce stripped the nets with a 17-footer in regulation time, sending the game into overtime and then won the game with a 16-footer just as the buzzer sounded, to give the Colonels a 74-72 win over Ballard. The team now advances to semifinal play against M.C. Napier. Jeff (above) scored 27 for his team. Mogge scored 17, Fryman 6, Thomas 9, Graves 11, Tipton 2, Talbott 2.

COLONELS BEAT NAVAJOS

The Colonels' "No. 1" prediction is one step closer to reality. With two seconds remaining on the clock, Bourbon's Jeff Royce dribbles the length of the floor to hit the winning shot and claim a 57-56 victory over the M.C. Napier Navajos. Jeff scored 22 points for his team, with Mogge contributing 16, Fryman 8, Thomas 7, Graves 2 and Tipton 2. The victory advances Bourbon to the finals against Logan County. Happy coaches and supporting staff (right) at Marshall County game and (center) following Ballard win. Happy fans (bottom, left) Joe Allen, grandson, E.C., Joe Fryman and William (Fly) Dale take state tournament break.

COLONELS ARE FINALISTS WE'RE PROUD

Optimistic Bourbon County players take the floor, and the tired, but still battling team stays with the taller Logan players in the first half. Unfortunately, the scrappy Colonels fall behind, to lose by 83-70. Colonels, right, (top) prepare for opening jump; (center) recover from physical play and (bottom) return after time out.

Only three Bourbon teams (1954, 1964, 1980) have advanced to state tournament play; no Bourbon County team has ever reached the finals. In spite of the unlucky lower-bracket draw, the Colonels' outstanding play and tremendous support from the band, students and fans combine to give Bourbon the STATE RUNNER-UP TITLE.

COLONEL "FINALISTS" GET STANDING OVATION!

Losing is never enjoyable, but the standing ovation given the Colonels by the 19,000 people in Rupp Arena helped to soften their loss. The Colonels showed class in both winning and losing. Taking each game one at a time, they never looked ahead but steadily and forcefully defeated each opponent until, at the very end, when exhaustion finally took its toll and deprived the team of the ability to exert themselves. The school and community has much of which to be proud in both the team and the cheerleaders (above) who earned the title of "Sweet 16 Cheerleading Champs."

Although it often takes time to really appreciate the second-place trophy in the Kentucky State High School Basketball Tournament, this is a feat which makes every team proud. Bourbon's fine athletes are visibly saddened as they (top) accept the runner-up trophy and (above) receive consolation from their proud-but sad — principal in the locker room. State All-Tournament team members Wayne Mogge and Jeff Royce are at right.
